

College of Arts and Letters Excel Network Presents:

CAREERS IN HEALTH

Tuesday, Sep. 29th, 5-6pm

Register for Zoom Link Here

Career Community: Nonprofit, Education, and Health

Careers in Health offers the opportunity to hear from a virtual panel of College of Arts & Letters alumni and faculty on a topics such as:

- Ways to gain experience as a student interested in roles related to public & community health, data analytics, health science, mental health, and healthcare
- How to apply a liberal arts degree to health-related career paths
- And more!

Featured Panelists:

Zekiye Salman (Religious Studies '13) – Grants Coordinator for Ingham County Health Department; President of the Lansing Association for Human Rights .

Jonathan Ritz – Licensed Professional Counselor (LLPC) and Assistant Professor in the College of Arts & Letters who works on initiatives focused on the mental health and well-being of students.

Alisha Ungkuldee (Women's & Gender Studies '20) – Medical student at MSU College of Osteopathic Medicine who plans to work in community-based medicine for marginalized populations.

Terence Gipson (Global Studies in the Arts & Humanities '15) - Program Evaluator at Oklahoma Dementia Care Network; Public Health Instructor at U. of Oklahoma Medical Center.

Register Here!

Excel Network
MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Letters
MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY